Why do we love and take care of others?

1/2 Phase

Why do we have relationships?

Purpose:

In this concept, children will explore the idea of important relationships and the people who care for and support them in their lives. They will think about who is special to them, such as family members, friends, teachers or other trusted adults, and talk about why these relationships matter. To help share their learning, the children will create a collage or scrapbook showing the important people in their lives, using pictures, drawings and sentences to explain why each relationship is important to them. Throughout this concept, children will learn to recognise feelings, develop respect and compassion for others and understand that positive relationships help us feel safe, happy and cared for.

End Goal:

Children will create individual collage/scrapbooks of relationship that are important to them and explain why they are important.

Core Values: Compassion, Respect, Trust
