Dear Parents, Governors, Staff, and Friends of Awel y Môr,

As I prepare to leave my role as Head Teacher to take up a two-year secondment with the local authority, I wanted to take a moment to express my heartfelt thanks to each and every one of you.

Over the past eight years, it has been an absolute privilege to lead this wonderful school. Together, we have seen Awel y Môr grow into a true leader in working with its community—a place where collaboration, care, and ambition thrive. This success is a reflection of the incredible support I have received from you all: parents who place their trust in us, governors who provide wise guidance, and staff whose dedication and talent make everything possible.

I am deeply touched by the kind words, messages, and gifts I have received this week. Your thoughtfulness means so much to me and is a reminder of the strong relationships that make this school so special.

Finally, to the pupils of Awel y Môr—thank you for bringing joy, energy, and curiosity into every day. You are the heart of this school, and it has been an honour to watch you learn and grow. You make Awel y Môr a truly remarkable place.

Although I am stepping away for now, I will always carry with me the pride and affection I feel for this community. Thank you for everything.

With warmest regards and best wishes,

Sam Greasley
Head teacher
